Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame Update

For many of us, the Spring Field Trial Season is complete. Hopefully we have finished Champions and qualified dogs for the Nationals in Booneville or Ionia. If not, we have the Fall season and the opportunity to be involved in a great sport in which we can participate with great friends. To most of you receiving this correspondence, you are the ones who have direct contact with your Club members. We need your support in letting your club members, and other officers know the value in supporting the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame. This is our special place in the Bird Dog Museum, and we all need to find a way to support it to whatever level we are able. In our last correspondence, we listed the total donations for Clubs and Championships. Our goal should be to have all Clubs and Championships represented on that list. This is our Breed, and we have done a fantastic job of showcasing the Field Brittany in our wing of the Bird Dog Museum, but everything come with price, and that price has to be borne by those of us who are able to donate, to whatever level we are able, to maintain, sustain, and improve our part of what is a lasting tribute to the people and dogs who have meant so much to the Breed. In the past year, several new Clubs have joined in by contributing and pledging to continue support. We of course would like large donations, but the important thing is to recognize that we need your continued support. Field Trial entries vary, and there are times when Clubs are able to donate more or less, but we would greatly appreciate whatever financial support you can give.

Many Clubs and Championships, have already donated enough to have Silver ($1,000.00), Gold ($2,500.00), and Platinum Plaques ($5,000.00) to represent their contributions. If you have any questions about your current contributions, please contact me. Thank you so much to all of the clubs that have contributed, and to those of you who have not yet contributed or pledged, please consider helping us complete and sustain funding for our Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame.
